NORTH CAROLINA HIATT & HYATTS.

Presented by Miss Sybil Hyatt, Winston, N. C. 1838113

Generation I. John Hiatt.

John Hiatt came to Virginia from England in 1692-93. He was a Quaker and the father of two or more sons, William and John.

Generation II. William Hiatt.

William Hiatt married Mary Smith about 1700. They had four sons: George, John William and Elieba.

1. George Hiatt married Martha Wakefield in 1725. They had eleven children, the eldest Mary b. April 28, 1726, the youngest Joseph b. April 3, 1753.

2. John Hiatt married Rachel Wilson in 1722. Their oldest son was born April 1, 1723.

North Carolina Hiatts and Hyatts

3. William Hiatt married Alice Louisa Marsh 1743 at Snowsall in Frederick Co., Province of Virginia.

Sybil Hyatt

George, John and William Hiatt settled in what was then Orange County, Province of Virginia on lands near where Winchester is located in 1735. They were all Friends and belonged to the Snowsall organization.

About 1750 Gov. Fairfax of Virginia issued an order annulling all grants of land by former Governors of the province and demanded all settlers pay him for their holdings. As this was impossible for many to do quite a large number sought homes in North Carolina.

As early as 1751 the Hiatts located in Rowan County, N. C.

which at that time extended over a large territory. George (1) and his entire family were there in 1753 and several of William's (3) sons left Virginia later on. William died about that time and his will was proved in what is now Frederick County.

Generation 1. John Hiatt.

John Hiatt came to Virginia from England in 1682-83. He was a Quaker and the father of two or more sons, William and John.

Generation 11. William Hiatt.

William Hiatt married Mary Smith about 1700. They had four sons: George, John Willian and Elisha.

1. George Hiatt married Martha Wakefield in 1725. They had eleven children, the eldest Mary b. April 28, 1726, the youngest Joesph b. April 3, 1753.

2. John Hiatt married Rachel Wilson in 1722. Their eldest son was born April 1, 1723.

3. William Hiatt married Alice Loudon March 1748 at Hopewell in Frederick Con, Province of Virginia.

George, John and William Hiatt settled in what was then Orange County, Province of Virginia on lands near where Winchester in located in 1735. They were att Friends and belonged to the Hopewell organization.

About 1750 Gov. Fairfaz of Vitginia issued an order annulling all grants of land by former Governors of the province and demanded the all settlers pay him for their holdings. As this was impossible for many to do quite a large number sought homes in North Carolina.

As early as 1751 the Hiatts located in Rowan County, N. C. which at that time extended over a large territory. George (1) and his entire familywere there in 1753 and several of William's (3) sons left Virgiani later on. William died about that time and his will was provated in what is now Frederick County.

The Census of 1790 of North Carolina gives in the western part of the state the following Hiatts as heads of families. In Burke County, Hezekiah Hiatt and Simon Hyett; in Rowan County, John Highat; in Surry County; Benjamin, John and Joseph Hiatt, Joseph Hiet, Jr. George Hiatt, William Hiatt; in Guilford County Ashor, Christopher, Christopher, Jr., Enos, Even, George, George, Isaac, Isaac, John, John, Jr., Joseph. Joseph Hiatt. In central North Carolina, in Wake County, Asa Hiot. In eastern North Carolina, in Craven County, George Hiet; in Bertie County, Elisha Hiat; in Northampton County Elisah Hiott; in Halifax County Davie Hyatt; in Gates County, Rebekah Thos. and Jesse Hiatt.

4. Elisha Hiatt. It is supposed that Elisha Hiatt settled in some other part of Virginia or went directly to North Carolina about the time the others bought land in Virginia as there were many Friends going southward about that time. The State Enumerations of Virginia from 1782 to 1785 do not give the name Elisha Hiatt, and also the Census of 1790 of South Carolina.

6. Thomas Hyatt Generation III. Elisha Hiatt.

Elisha Hiatt appears on the Census of 1790 of N. C. in Bertie County as the head of a family consisting of one white male over 16, one white male under 16, and six white females. The writer thinks he married one of the daughters of John Battle of Bertie County, whose will was probated in 1740, because one of John Battle's sons was named Jesse Battle and this name Jesse Battle appears twice later in the Hyatt family. It is probable that Elisha Hiatt left the Friends before coming to North Carolina. The name Hiatt does not appear in the Book of the Records of Births and Deaths of Rich Square Monthly Meetings of Friends.

Edgecombe County Generation IV. Elisha Hiatt of Hyatt.

The name of Elisha Hiatt appears on the Census of 1790 of Northampton County as the head of a family consisting of one white male of the state the following Hattas as heads of families. In Burke County Rebecca Hatt and Simon Hatt; in Rowan County, John Hatt; in Curry County; Benjamin, John and Joseph Hatt, Joseph Hatt, Jr.

George Hatt, William Hatt; in Guilford County, Christopher, Christopher, Jr., Enos, George, Isaac, James, John, Jr., John, Jr., Joseph, Joseph Hatt. In central North Carolina, in Wake County, Asa Hatt. In eastern North Carolina, in Granville County,
George Hatt; in Bertie County, Eliza Hatt; in Northampton County,
Eliza Hatt; in Halifax County, John Hatt; in Gates County, Rebecca Hatt, and Jesse Hatt.

4. Eliza Hatt. It is supposed that Eliza Hatt settled in some other part of Virginia or went directly to North Carolina about the time the others sought land in Virginia as there were many friends going southward about that time. The state historians of Virginia from 1783 to 1785 do not give the name Eliza Hatt, and also the Genealogy of 1790 of North Carolina.

Generation III. Eliza Hatt.

Eliza Hatt appears on the Genealogy of 1790 of N. C. in Bertie County as the head of a family consisting of one white wife over 18, one white male under 18, and six white females. The writer thinks he married one of the daughters of John Battle of Bertie County, whose will was probated in 1740, because one of John Battle's sons was named Jesse Battle and this name Jesse Battle appears twice later in the Hatt family. It is probable that Eliza Hatt lived the friends before coming to North Carolina. The name Hatt does not appear in the book of the Records of Virginia and North Carolina Square Hatt's Hattings of Friends.

Generation IV. Eliza Hatt of Hatt.

The name of Eliza Hatt appears on the Genealogy of 1790 of North ampton County as the head of a family consisting of one white wife over 16, one white male under 16, and two white females. He died in Edgecombe County. He was a soldier of the Revolution and a shoemaker. His Revolutionary services are recorded in Vol. XVII, page 216, N. C. Colonial and State Records, The Army Accounts of North Carolina Line. 28 pounds - 9 shillings - 7 d.

His greatgrandson Henry Otis Hyatt told the writer that he saw his shoemaker's sign in Jesse Battle Hyatt's wood shed when he was a boy and the name on the sign was spelled Hiatt.

The name is spelled Hyatt in the following Bible records owned by the writer. They were in a New Testament which was printed in 1802.

1. Mary Hyatt, daughter of Elisha Hyatt and Elizabeth his wife was born Jan'y 19, 1784.

2. Martha Hyatt was born July 13, 1784.

3. Joab Hyatt was born November 9, 1787.

4. Rebecca Hyatt was born February 24, 1789.

5. Tabitha Hyatt was born March 6, 1792.

6. Thomas Hyatt was born October 28, 1794.

Rebecca Hyatt married James G. Barnes September 15, 1819.

Braswell, born 1854, died 1907, one son and three daughters. 10. Frances Braswell Hooks, born 1843, no children. 11. Christiana Braswell Moore, born 1852, two sons and one daughter. She furnished this record August 31, 1916. She lived at Rocky Mount, N. C., and was Mrs. D. D. Moore. 12. Jesse B. Braswell, born 1856, one son and two daughters. 13. Millie A. Braswell Lancaster, born 1858, three sons and three daughters.

Generation VI: Jesse Battle Hyatt.

Jesse Battle Hyatt lived and died in Tarboro, N. C. He was a fine man, was a farmer but did some merchandising. He belonged to the Episcopal Church and he, his second wife and some of his children are buried near the front door of the Episcopal Church in Tarboro, N. C. His first wife is buried in the Shurley burying ground one mile south of the Edgecombe County Court House. His first wife was Margaret Ann Shurley, born Nov. 1, 1831, married April 15, 1847, died Dec. 31, 1848 of pneumonia. Their only child was Henry Otis Hyatt. His second wife Martha C. Horne was his third cousin. She was born July 25, 1832, married Feb. 11, 1851, died Sept. 19, 1867. Their children were:

- 1, Clarence Caswell Hyatt, born Feb. 18, 1852, died March 4, 1858.

The Registers of Deeds in Chowan and Bertie County in 1914-16 wrote there were no deeds relating to Hyatts in those counties. The postmaster at Jackson N. C. in 1917 said there were no Hyatts in that county then but that an old man Wm. H. Hyatt had lived there but had died about five years previously. The Postmaster at Gatesville, James Hyatt, Ahoskie, Martin Hyatt, Sunbury. Judge Francis D. Winston said in 1916 there were Hyatts in Hertford County and suggested that I write Hon. B. B. Winborne, Murfreesboro, N.C. about them.

Dec. 30, 1907, Mr. Jesse M. Hiatt, 1323 Harvard St., Washington, D.C. wrote to Miss Sybil Hyatt, Kinston, N.C. the following letter:

"After fully nine years' search for the Hiatts, it begins to look as though there is no end to them and I find it difficult to find a good safe place to stop the investigation. The first Hiatt in this country as far as I have been able to discover came from England in 1682-83. His name was John and he was a Quaker. He was the father of two or more sons William and John are the only sons of which I find any record.

"William married Mary Smith about 1700. They had four sons George,
J 2 3 4
John, William, and Elisha.

1. "George married Martha Wakefield 1725. They had eleven children, the oldest Mary born April 28, 1726 and so on to Joseph born April 3, 1753, the youngest. Of this family I have descendants down to a late day.

2. "John married Rachel Wilson 1722. Their oldest son was born April 1, 1723. This is the line to which I belong and I have many of the family enrolled.

3. "William married Alice Loudon March 1748, at Hopewell in Fredrick Co. Province of Virginia.

" Of Elisha I have no record whatever. The first three mentioned settles in what was then Orange County, Province of Virginia on lands near where Winchester is located in 1735. They were all friends and belonged to the Hopewell organization. Now it is quite likely that about the time the others bought land in Va. as there were many Friends going southward about that time.

" About 1750 Gov. Fairfax of Va province issued an order annulling all grants of land by former Governor of the province and demanded that all settlers pay him for their holding. As this was impossible for many to do quite a large number sought homes in N.C.

" As early as 1751 the Hiatts located in Rowan county, N.C. which at time extended over a large territory. George and his entire family were there first of all. John and his family were there in 1753 and several of William's sons left Virginia later on. William died about that time and his will was probated in the now Fredrick Co. Court House.

" My grandfather was married in what is now Guilford Co. N.C. in 1754. His name was William, His youngest son Richard born 1775 was my grandfather. He married in Grayson Co. Va. in 1802, moved to Ohio in 1810, and subsequently to Indiana where he purchased 1000 acres of land and divided it among his children. This is a very brief statement of what I have learned about our people. I am very much inclined to think this Elisha is your ancestor and I would be only too glad to delay the publication of my book if I could get his line in shape to go into the work. See what you can find out and let me know. Our people have always spelled their name Hiatt but it seems that in the last half century several of the line living south have been spelling the name with a y which is the old English form.

" There are two large families of Hyatts in this country. One known as the Maryland family and the other the New York Family. They always spelled their name with a y. They are however no relatives of our family. They were until recent years active members of the Episcopal Church and a large proportion of them in Maryland still hold that faith. I have thoroughly investigated the lines of their families and find that while we were no doubt one family in England several centuries ago, In America we are three families.

" Jesse and Elisha are names that are found in many of the Hiatt families for two hundred years past.
